First Call for Papers

This year's edition proposes the two-thousandth anniversary of the death of the Latin poet Publius Ovidius Naso. By his reception in all times and in all cultures he belongs to the universal patrimony. His exile in Tomis added a register to his creation, that nothing could foretell while he was living in Rome. Besides the Latin culture to which he belonged by his origin and by the language in which he wrote, Ovid was indirectly connected by fate to the Romanian culture and that is why the tribute he received from Romania has always had a special meaning.

We invite those who want to contribute to the Ovidian anniversary to take part in the colloquium we dedicate to him, having the possibility to choose a theme of one of the domains:

- literature, civilization, history, mythology
- imagology, mentalities, anthropology
- linguistics

or from related areas, which they must approach from the points of view or with the methods they consider appropriate.

The languages of communication in the colloquium are: Romanian, French, English, Spanish, Italian, German.

Those who want to participate are invited to send the title of the article, the abstract and 5 key-words in a foreign language, for articles in Romanian, and in Romanian and a foreign language for articles in a foreign language, until the 1st of May, 2017.
