

Iuliana-Florina PANDELICĂ

Graduate of the Faculty of Letters and History, having specialized in French Language and Literature - Romanian Language and Literature (1995), subsequently obtaining the Diploma of Advanced Studies in French Literature - Poetics (1996) at the same faculty and graduate of the Faculty of Law “Nicolae Titulescu” (2001) of the University of Craiova, Iuliana-Florina PANDELICĂ continued her studies with the Master 2 Didactics of French and Languages (2014) at University Sorbonne Nouvelle - Paris 3, and is currently a 3rd year PhD student at “Alexandru Piru” Doctoral School of the Faculty of Letters at the University of Craiova. Her thesis, titled Le champ lexico-sémantique des couleurs dans l’œuvre de Michel Pastoureau (The Lexical-Semantic Field of Colours in Michel Pastoureau’s Work), is coordinated by Professor PhD Cristiana-Nicola TEODORESCU.

French-language tenure teacher at Voltaire High School in Craiova, certified translator for legal and technical fields (French and Romanian), and adult trainer, Iuliana-Florina PANDELICĂ has more than 20 years of experience in education and has participated in numerous training courses in the country and in various European countries under the LLP and Erasmus + programs, she was the manager of the KA1 adult education project “A click away from intercultural education in the digital age” and a member of the implementation teams of other European projects.

During her doctoral studies, Iuliana-Florina PANDELICĂ participated in national and international events with a series of papers, among which: “Translating chromatics: red, blue and green from French to Romanian” at the international conference “Found in translation” (Bucharest, 2015); “The reception of literary texts : challenges for the teaching of French as foreign language” in Communication Interculturelle et Littérature (Intercultural Communication and Literature) Nr. 1 (23) / 2016 (CNCSIS 489/2008); “The lexical-semantic field of the colour blue” in Actes du Colloque International 50 Ans de Français à l’Université de Craiova (1966-2016); “Migrant terms: blue in specialized languages” at the international conference « Du mot au message » (“From word to message”) (Bucharest, 2016) and “The chromatic terms red and blue in dictionaries. A lexical-semantic analysis” at the conference “Translation versus Interpretation - Evolution and Prospects for the 21st Century” (Arad, 2017).

The PhD candidate was admitted to the Autumn Doctoral School “Corpus” organized by the Doctoral School in Humanities at Ovidius University in Constanta, that she will attend during the period September 13th –September 16th, 2017.